Parenting Tip- God lets his people serve him and express their worship of him in different ways.

Christians generally agree on the basic doctrines of the Apostles' Creed. But your children will encounter many differences among churches, and they may wonder why. You can help clear up the confusion and guide children to appreciate the freedom God gives us to honor him in a variety of ways.

Try taking a family field trip to a church unlike your own, so that your children can experience another form of worship. Then ask, "How might the things they did be expressions of their love for God?"

Spiritual Growth of Children by John Trent, PhD., Rick Osborne, Kurt Bruner

REMINDER: Please read the new student handbooks and return the last 2 sheets signed (please pay close attention to the new attendance policy) Also, if your child is getting picked up early, tardy, out sick, etc. we will need a note when the child returns in order for them to be excused. The sign-in sheets are in the school offices.

Be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them.
